

McGILL, POWER, BELL & ASSOCIATES CELEBRATES 80 YEARS IN BUSINESS

November 15, 2007 — McGill, Power, Bell & Associates, LLP is celebrating its 80th Anniversary. The certified public accounting firm was established by a predecessor firm, Bell & Company, in 1927 in Sharon, PA.

Over the past 80 years, the firm has grown to become a regional leader in accounting. The firm has 35 staff members and two offices in Meadville and Erie.

“We have seen considerable growth over the past several years,” explains Dean Fair, the firm’s managing partner. “Although we have increased in size, we have not lost sight of what makes us successful, the relationships we build with our clients and our focus on staff.”

The firm currently has four partners, Dean Fair, John Litzinger, Bob Power, Jr., and Diana Schaney. The firm not only does business in all of Pennsylvania but also western New York, eastern Ohio and West Virginia.

One of the original founders of the firm was Robert M. Power, Sr. His son and current partner, Bob Power, Jr., joined the firm in 1969.

“I am proud to carry on the tradition my father began in the early 50s of providing quality accounting and consulting services to the people of northwest Pennsylvania,” states Bob Power, Jr. “We may have expanded since my father led this firm, but we have held on to the core values that he established.”

As a full service accounting firm, McGill, Power, Bell & Associates provides a full range of services including accounting and auditing services, business valuations, payroll processing, litigation support services, estate planning, tax planning, management consulting services, personal financial planning, and Quickbooks and Peachtree consulting and service.

###