

Internet Resources

These Web sites provide valuable information for not-for-profit managers.

CharityChannel — www.charitychannel.com

A volunteer-driven on-line community of voluntary-sector professionals, currently consisting of more than 100,000 participants.

Quality 990 — www.qual990.org

A Web site created to aid not-for-profit organizations in understanding and complying with IRS regulations pertaining to Form 990 disclosure, providing suggestions for improving the quality of information that is reported on their Form 990.

The Internet Nonprofit Center — www.nonprofit-info.org

A project of The Evergreen State Society based in Seattle, Wash., the Internet Nonprofit Center is the home of the not-for-profit FAQ. The FAQ is based on "frequently asked questions" — and their answers — drawn from the not-for-profit e-mail discussion forum.

Network for Good — www.networkforgood.org

A not-for-profit organization dedicated to using the Web to help people get more involved in their communities — from volunteering and donating money, to encourage speaking out on issues of importance to individuals.

TechSoup.org — www.techsoup.org

Powered by CompuMentor, one of the nation's oldest and largest not-for-profit technology assistance agencies, TechSoup.org offers not-for-profits one-stop shopping for their technology needs. While it is aimed primarily at the 650,000 small to midsize not-for-profits, staff from larger not-for-profits may find useful information as well.
