

Winter 2003

Internet Resources

These Web sites provide valuable information for nonprofit managers.

Association for Volunteer Administration (AVA) — www.avaintl.org

The AVA is the international professional membership association for individuals working in the field of volunteer resources management.

National Center for Charitable Statistics — www.nccs.urban.org

General statistics about the nonprofit sector are available on this site.

International Center for Not-for-Profit Law — www.icnl.org

ICNL supports the development of civil society and the freedom of association on a global basis. The organization provides technical assistance in creating and improving laws and regulatory systems that permit, encourage, and regulate the not-for-profit, nongovernmental sector worldwide.

National Association of State Charity Officials — www.nasconet.org

The site lists U.S. state charity offices and addresses.

The Thomas Legislative Information Site — <http://thomas.loc.gov>

Listings include the Congressional Record, all Public Laws (by P.L. number) and committee reports.

Nonprofit Resource Center — www.nonprofitresource.com

Web site provides assistance for grant-funded programs, including copies of applicable laws and regulations, a tax issues newsletter, and other information for the nonprofit financial manager.

webmaster@polarisna.org

Back To Index
Home

The articles in this newsletter are general in nature and are not a substitute for accounting, legal, or other professional services. We assume no liability for the reader's reliance on this information. Before implementing any of the ideas contained in this publication, consult a professional advisor to determine whether they apply to your unique circumstances.

© 2003